

New Policy on Web Posting for AERA Authors

In June 2003, AERA Council passed a resolution granting authors permission to post articles published in AERA journals on their personal websites or in an area that is designated to them on an institution's website. This policy will be effective until AERA otherwise provides electronic reprint access to journal articles.

To implement this policy, AERA requests that interested authors complete the Website Permission Form. This form, duly signed and authorized by AERA, allows authors to post AERA journal articles with the appropriate citation and authentication of the original work. The AERA Website Permission Form may be downloaded from the AERA website at

AERA Publications—Website Permission Form

Send a completed copy of this form to the AERA Director of Publications who will review and act on the request. After granting approval, the Director of Publications will return a copy of the request form to the author. Author should mail completed form to:
